

Even trying to lie you never received the money

Why will you think I'll work with you, see are a sick person

Thu, Sep 22, 2:22 AM

Have your new attorney contact me because I don't deserve these irrational and unfounded attacks and lies when I did NOTHING wrong. You sent me a retainer you had agreed to and then changed your mind. Retainers by definition are nonrefundable. I'm still happy to do the work agreed upon now you have an attorney. So please just ask them to contact me.

I need my money to hire an attorney, you are a very dishonest person and I cannot work with you, I don't have any contract sign with you, you only deceived me to make a payment which I did, and you ran away.
Just like you are sneaking around at 2 AM to send me a text message, expecting me not to respond

Your excuse on Friday was the money had not cleared, you keep coming up with all the excuses, you are nothing but a fraudster

You even ran away from deleted your account from Facebook where I found you.
You are just so small.
I'm giving you till the end of tomorrow, and will be filing reports with the bank. And sending out warning against your fraudulent website
You are a very dishonest person

You can't even answer your calls, yet came up very Sympathetic, when you are all full of fraud

A retainer without a contract??

Friday 2:39 AM

You decided to pay the retainer without one and since I'm not an attorney written retainer agreements are not required. I have no reason to take your calls and just have you yell at me. You can have the attorney contact me and I'll be happy to provide him the paralegal work you retained.

Just have him call me. I can't continue to help you directly if you've retained an attorney as that means I have to work directly with them instead of you. There's nothing fraud...

Pls stop telling me how to spend my money. Just send my refund.
This is fraud

Friday 11:04 AM
