Greetings, I checked the claim and found out that Mr. Splavec notified Cardiomedix that he lost the heart monitor : We had to replace the monitor and purchased a new one. About a year later Mr. Splavec found the monitor and re There is a late fee penalty involved in the late return of the monitor. The patients are notified about it when they re patients that a after a certain period the lost monitor will be replaced and it will be too late to return it. However, we decided to drop the penalty charges and return Mr. Splavec $800. A check will be sent to him.

Best Regards
